

Outstanding Utah High School Accounting Teacher Award

General Information

These awards have been established by the Utah CPA Education Foundation to annually honor high school teachers who have done an exemplary job of teaching accounting principles in the classroom and have developed and/or maintained a strong accounting program in the school. Evidence may include recruitment strategies, curriculum development, class projects, dealing with effective accounting education, etc.

The recipient of the “Champion of the Profession Award” will receive a $1,000 cash award and must have taught accounting for more than three of the past six years. The recipient of the “Rising Star Award” will receive a $500 cash award and cannot have taught accounting for more than three years.

These cash awards will be presented at the annual Business Education Summer Conference in June. The winners will also be honored at the annual UACPA Awards Event.

Eligibility

- The teacher must have taught accounting courses to high school students for three of the past six years for the Champion Award, or no more than three years for the Rising Star Award.
- The teacher’s accounting students have participated in the Utah State Office of Education, Career and Technical Education Skill Certificate Program.
- The teacher must be willing to meet with judges in Salt Lake City if personal interviews are deemed necessary.

The decision of the judges is final. Applications will be kept confidential. Teacher information will not be used without permission.
